

Creating a Workplace Where People Thrive: A Four-Part Series

DESCRIPTION

In the fast-paced Behavioral Health sector, effective leadership involves inspiring teams and creating thriving environments. This four-part series provides a blueprint for leaders, offering interactive sessions with practical tools and strategies to enhance presence, productivity, trust, and communication. Tailored for leaders in Behavioral Health, it addresses burnout, team culture, and drives lasting change. Participants will gain actionable insights and tools to transform their leadership and workplace into a hub of growth and resilience.

Speaker : Jason Burnett
Founder, CrestLeaders

Every First Tuesday | 11:30am - 1:00pm | Via Zoom

DATE	TOPIC
3/4/25	Presence Over Chaos: The Art of Being Productive and Intentional
4/1/25	The Currency of Trust: Building Influence That Matters
5/6/25	Tuning Communication: Expressing Clarity and Intention as a Leader
6/3/25	Future-Proof Your Team: Developing People and Planning for What's Next

Disclosures

- The Health Care Authority (HCA) provided funding for this series.
- The series is designed specifically for New Mexico-based leaders, managers, supervisors, and team leads. However, all New Mexican healthcare professionals are welcome to attend.
- Spanish and ASL interpretation is available upon request at the time of registration. Learners will need to confirm the request within 10 days of training.
- This series is approved by the New Mexico Counseling and Therapy Practice Board to award up to 6.0 Live CEUs. Provider License No. CTB-2022-0245. Expires 09/30/2025.

